

SWS survey says 74% believe Mao can be No. 1

MANILA, Philippines — A survey by the Social Weather Stations (SWS) shows that 74 percent of Filipinos believe Mao Zedong can be the No. 1 leader in the world, ahead of US President George W. Bush and Chinese Premier Hu Jintao.

The survey, conducted from March 10 to 14, found that 74 percent of respondents believe Mao is the best leader, while 26 percent believe Bush is the best, and 1 percent believe Hu is the best.

The survey also found that 68 percent of respondents believe the Philippines should have a strong leader, while 32 percent believe the country should have a weak leader.

Stat exec denies fudging trade figures

A SENIOR official yesterday denied suggestions that the government had cooked up its trade figures for 2002-2004, which were then revised last month to reveal a far worse picture of the Philippine economy than first thought.

"Revision of official statistics is standard here, recognized and appreciated by those who truly know," said Romulo Viras, secretary general of the National Statistical Coordination Board.

According to figures issued by the National Statistics Office last month, the 2004 trade deficit was 430 billion dollars after the first revision and 713 billion dollars.

The 2003 deficit was revised to 424 billion dollars from the previously given 127 billion dollars while the 2002, it was revised to 403 billion dollars from 216 billion dollars.

In 2002 the government had also revised its previously released import figures for the three years to 2002.

"Concerns were raised, quite understandably about the revision of foreign trade statistics released recently," Viras said in a statement.

"Some of these concerns were articulated objectively but some, unfortunately, degenerated into convoluted accusations about cheating by government statisticians," he added.

Viras said the new

2002-2004 trade data came from a revised methodology following studies by the central bank's monetary board on the proper valuation of exports and imports, particularly of 15 electronics components that account for much of the country's electronics exports. "These statistics are generally released based on incomplete data/reports. Statistical offices tend to be and still are being ridiculed on the long time lag in the release of statistics," the official acknowledged. AAP

Used car imports in Subic still worry local assemblers

By Renato S. Dela Cruz

MANILA (Philippine Daily Inquirer) — The Philippine Automotive Manufacturers Association (PAMA) said it is still worried about the impact of used car imports on the local automotive industry.

PAMA, which represents local car manufacturers, said that the influx of used cars from abroad is a threat to the local market. It said that the used car imports are causing a loss of revenue for local manufacturers.

PAMA is calling for the government to take action to protect the local automotive industry from the impact of used car imports.

OSLO, Sept. 12 (AP) — Norway's left-wing government has won a decisive victory in the September 16 parliamentary elections, ending 16 years of rule by the center-right coalition.

The left-wing government, led by Prime Minister Gro Harlem Brundtland, won 101 of the 169 seats in the 169-member parliament. The center-right coalition, led by Prime Minister Kjell Magne Bondevik, won 68 seats.

The election was a significant turning point in Norwegian history. It marked the end of a long period of conservative rule and the beginning of a new era of social democracy.

The left-wing government has promised to implement a series of reforms, including increasing social welfare, strengthening labor rights, and promoting environmental protection.

The election was a testament to the popularity of the left-wing government and the desire of the Norwegian people for a more socially just and environmentally friendly society.

Figure 1 consists of two histograms. The left histogram, titled 'Prod', shows the distribution of the number of non-zero elements in the product of two sparse matrices. The x-axis is labeled 'Non-zero elements' and ranges from 0 to 2000. The y-axis is labeled 'Frequency' and ranges from 0 to 100. The distribution is roughly bell-shaped, peaking at approximately 1000 non-zero elements with a frequency of about 100. The right histogram, titled 'Mod Summed', shows the distribution of the number of non-zero elements in the result of a modular summation. The x-axis is labeled 'Non-zero elements' and ranges from 0 to 2000. The y-axis is labeled 'Frequency' and ranges from 0 to 100. This distribution is also roughly bell-shaped, peaking at approximately 1000 non-zero elements with a frequency of about 100.

Bid to place pre-need firms under IC pushed

THE BANGKO SENTRAL NG PILIPINAS HAS backed a proposal to tighten regulations on pre-need companies by placing the sector under the wings of the Insurance Commission.

"Since the operations of pre-need companies are similar to the operations of insurance companies, the IC can be an effective regulator and supervisor of pre-need companies," said Diwa Guinigundo, BSP officer-in-charge.

Earlier, the Securities and Exchange Commission proposed that the BSP regulate the pre-need sector. But the proposal was opposed by the banking regulator itself.

Guinigundo yesterday said in a statement that under the BSP's charter, its supervisory and regulatory authority is limited to banking institutions and quasi-banks, including their subsidiaries and affiliates engaged in allied activities.

Guinigundo said the BSP agreed that the reorganization of the IC, as well as the streamlining of its structure and operations and upgrading of human resources, would enable the commission to exercise supervision over the pre-need sector.

He said the BSP was likewise supportive of the provisions in the proposed 'Pre-Need Code of 2005,' rationalizing the operations of these companies, particularly the fit and proper rule, as well as more stringent regulations on independent directors, trust funds, actuary and actuarial reserve liabilities.

Pre-need plans refer to products that cover foreseeable expenditures in the future such as retirement funds, education or even funeral arrangements.

Some pioneering players of the pre-need sector recently have been rocked by problems. In the case of education plans, their viability was adversely affected by the liberalization of tuition fees collected by private schools.

Lepanto defaults on debts, says Australia bank

AUSTRALIAN PRIVATE BANK NM ROTHschild & Sons Ltd. is claiming that the Philippine firm Lepanto Consolidated Mining Co. has defaulted on some of its hedging contract debts.

Lepanto said it received a notice from NM Rothschild that "an event of default" exists with regards to its hedging contracts covering a total of 4,873 ounces of gold.

Rothschild also told Lepanto it was terminating all outstanding transactions with the mining firm involving 92,873 ounces.

The Philippine gold producer last month filed a petition with the Makati Regional Trial Court to declare its hedging transactions with NM Rothschild null and void.

Lepanto had asked to void its contract with NM Rothschild after talks with the private bank bogged down.

Lepanto's transaction with Rothschild involve monetary settlements equivalent to 97,746 ounces of gold.

"We have received notice from Rothschild demanding that we comply with our obligations covering a total of 4,873 ounces of gold, with a threat to declare an event of default in case of our failure to comply," said Odette Javier Lepanto, assistant corporate secretary Lepanto. "This is already the subject of the case that has been filed (with the Makati RTC)."

Lepanto earlier said it has fully repaid its $30 million loan from foreign banks Rothschild and Dresdner. As of last year, Lepanto had forwarded gold contracts to sell 169,043 ounces of gold at an average price of $295 per ounce. These will mature in 2005 worth $24 million based on marked-to-market prices.

Also, Lepanto told the Philippine Stock Exchange that it has ended a protracted labor dispute at its minesite in Mankayan, Benguet.

As a result of this agreement, the company's management believes it will be able to continue to provide the same level of service to its customers and to the community.

Liquidity Issues
 The company's liquidity position is strong, with a current ratio of 1.5 and a quick ratio of 1.2. The company's cash and marketable securities are $10 million, and its accounts receivable are $20 million. The company's inventory is $15 million, and its payables are $10 million. The company's long-term debt is $25 million, and its equity is $40 million.

The growing trend toward smaller, more efficient buildings is a key factor in the industry's push for green buildings. The industry is also seeing a shift in the way buildings are designed and constructed, with a focus on reducing energy consumption and improving indoor air quality. This is leading to a growing market for green building products and services, which is expected to continue to grow in the coming years.

Wellness is a virtue

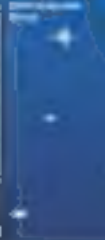

When you're healthy, you're happy. When you're healthy, you're successful. When you're healthy, you're wealthy. When you're healthy, you're powerful. When you're healthy, you're free. When you're healthy, you're... well, you're just plain healthy. And that's a good thing. Because when you're healthy, you're able to do anything you want to do. You're able to live your life to the fullest. You're able to enjoy every moment. You're able to be the best you can be. And that's the real secret to happiness. It's not money. It's not power. It's not fame. It's not anything else. It's just being healthy. And that's a virtue. A virtue that everyone should strive to achieve. Because when you're healthy, you're able to do anything you want to do. You're able to live your life to the fullest. You're able to enjoy every moment. You're able to be the best you can be.
